

What is The Writing Revolution?

The Writing Revolution is an educational nonprofit committed to ensuring that all students acquire the writing skills essential for academic achievement and career readiness. Founded in 2014 by Dr. Judith Hochman, the organization equips educators with a proven methodology that transforms writing instruction across all grade levels and subject areas.

Our Work

- Train educators in the Hochman Method, a set of evidence-based strategies for teaching expository writing. The methodology is rooted in explicit, carefully sequenced instruction, building from sentences to compositions.
- Equip educators with the tools to implement the method through MyTWR Hub, a centralized digital platform that brings together training, instructional resources, implementation tools, and Judy—our AI activity generator and coach—all in one place. We also offer free companion resources aligned to The Writing Revolution book.
- Partner with schools, districts, and states to build unified, coherent systems of writing instruction across all grades and subject areas, strengthening teaching practice and elevating student outcomes.

The Writing Revolution believes that all students deserve access to high-quality writing instruction that enables them to read with greater understanding, think more analytically, and communicate more effectively. With your support, we can continue to expand access to effective writing instruction and equip educators with the tools they need to help students thrive. Join us in advancing the writing revolution.

The Hochman Method®

The Hochman Method is a set of evidence-based and proven strategies for teaching expository writing. This methodology is rooted in explicit, carefully-sequenced instruction, building from sentences to compositions.

With your partnership, we can bring this research-based method to more classrooms and ensure that all students gain the skills they need for academic and lifelong success.

The Six Principles of the Hochman Method

- 1 Students need explicit instruction in writing, beginning in the early elementary grades.
- 2 Sentences are the building blocks of all writing.
- 3 When embedded in the content of the curriculum, writing instruction is a powerful teaching tool.
- 4 The content of the curriculum drives the rigor of the writing activities.
- 5 Grammar is best taught in the context of student writing.
- 6 The two most important phases of the writing process are planning and revising.

What Sets the Hochman Method Apart

- It is an approach designed to be embedded in the content taught in any subject area or grade level; it is not a separate writing curriculum
- Breaks down silos in writing instruction by establishing strategies that can be used consistently across subjects and grade levels
- Builds students' capacity to think critically, express ideas with clarity, and communicate with confidence through explicit writing instruction
